Q3 commentary 2024

We leave an eventful month of September behind us. Despite increased tensions in the Middle East, emerging market equities outperformed global markets both in September and the third quarter. SKAGEN Kon-Tiki outperformed emerging markets in September and ended the month at a new all-time-high.

As growth continues to be resilient and US inflation hovers around the Fed's target, a US easing cycle without signs of a recession has helped fuel global markets. As we approach the US election in November, we may see continued volatility. The results could also have major implications for EM and global trade given the uncertainty regarding potential new tariffs and trade policy. Emerging markets' strength in September was driven by a huge rotation of flows into China. After resisting major stimulus for so long, China made a big turnaround with The People's Bank of China leading the charge to revive sentiment through a televised press briefing with a strong message they are now opening their coffers to stock markets and making money cheaper to borrow. Fiscal spending is being boosted and they are offering cash handouts and new subsidies for jobless graduates, amongst other things. They have also announced measures to halt the property price decline. The efforts now seem more coordinated and the market reacted accordingly.

Therefore, and not surprisingly, the fund's top contributors for the month and third quarter were all China-related companies. Ping An's share price took a sharp U-turn, as did that of other insurance companies. Ping An can be seen as a beneficiary of some of the measures announced, and as a result, we saw a reversal in the negative sentiment towards its property market exposure. Over the past few years, Chinese internet stocks like Alibaba and Tencent – companies that contribute significantly to the market value of Prosus and Naspers – have faced headwinds due to regulatory challenges, geopolitical tensions, and recession concerns. As a result, their share prices have underperformed that of their global counterparts. However, this trend shifted towards the end of the month. With strong earnings growth, attractive valuations, and solid liquidity, these stocks are now drawing the attention of investors who are beginning to worry they may be underexposed to the Chinese market. Among the month's and quarter's negative contributors, CNOOC experienced a slight decline due to oil price weakness, following a strong performance over the past two years. Samsung's setback was driven by weakness in consumer electronics and concerns about its positioning and outlook for High Bandwidth Memory (HBM). The stock is now trading near recent down-cycle lows on a price-to-book basis, presenting what we believe to be an attractive opportunity. Assai's shares dropped following concerns that Brazilian tax authorities listed some of its assets in connection with disputed tax liabilities related to GPA, its former parent company. However, GPA has reaffirmed its responsibility for these liabilities, meaning there should be no negative impact on Assai.

We exited three companies in the period and added one new position. Shell has been a strong contributor and, as it had reached our price target, we exited the company, also reducing our overall energy exposure. Second, we exited from Gree Electric after a good run and finally, we sold the remainder of our shares in Atlantic Sapphire. In September, we initiated a new position in Wuliangye Yibin, a company that Kon-Tiki has successfully owned in the past. Wuliangye is a leading brand in baijiu, a traditional Chinese distilled spirit made from grains, known for its strong alcohol content and cultural significance. The brand enjoys strong recognition, with two-thirds of its revenue coming from the RMB 1,000 price segment, which targets corporate and middle-class customers. With stable growth, strong free cash flow, and a 5% dividend yield, Wuliangye presents a very attractive investment opportunity.

The portfolio is trading in aggregate on 8.5x 2024 earnings and 0.9x price to book despite recent strong performance. The valuation discount relative to the broader EM index remains at more than 40% on price to earnings and at half the price based on book values. This is despite displaying similar aggregate fundamentals in terms of projected returns and growth. The fund therefore continues to provide a very attractive risk-reward proposition.
